Penalties for Supervised Release Violations:

Statutory Penalties: According to 18 U.S.C. § 3583(e)(3), the Court may revoke a term of supervised release and require the person to serve in prison all or part of the term of supervised release authorized by statute for the offense that resulted in such term of supervised release without credit for time previously served on post-release supervision. The maximum revocation term of custody for a Class C felony is 2 years.

Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3583(h), if supervision is revoked and the defendant is sentenced to a term of imprisonment, the Court may sentence the defendant to an additional term of supervised release. The length of such a term of supervised release shall not exceed the term of supervised release authorized by statute for the original offense, less any term of imprisonment imposed upon revocation of supervised release.

Guideline Penalties: In the case of revocation of supervised release, the applicable term of imprisonment is found in the Sentencing Guideline Table under 7B1.4(a). This section states that for Grade C Violations with a Criminal History Category of I, and where the defendant was on supervised release as a result of a sentence for a Class C felony, the applicable imprisonment range is 3-9 months.

Pursuant to U.S.S.G. § 7B1.3(g)(2), the term should not exceed the original term of supervised release authorized by statute less any term of imprisonment imposed upon revocation.
